Third-party Marketing Consent

Optional and freely revocable consent to the communication of your contact data to selected partners, so that they may send you their own commercial communications.

This consent is separate and independent from the marketing consent given to DevIBrain: refusing it has no effect on the service nor on the other consent. You may withdraw it at any time by writing to support@devibrain.com.

Status of this consent. The Privacy Policy in force (IUX-EN-33 v1.1, clause 9.4) states that personal data are never sold, rented or otherwise transferred to third parties for their own marketing purposes. This consent is therefore not exercised today: it is kept in the registry pending the editorial decision recorded in the changelog of this version.
